So let me get this straight...

For my own safety, I cannot:

Browse the shelves of the Library, and sit down and read a book.
Have a slice of pizza in LaFesta
Have a beer at the Thirsty Moose
Attend a graduation ceremony when my children graduate from Dover Schools

I can:

Gather with 1000 other people and protest

No one can gather anywhere.....except to protest
Everyone should maintain "social distance"except when they protest
Everyone is at risk.....except when they protest

I guess my unalienable rights aren't as important as the protesters...

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Maybe you should read the Declaration of Independence.

I'd say come to City Hall and listen to it on July 4th...but that will be cancelled as well now won't it?

The hypocrisy is stunning
Wake up

A frustrated, disgusted taxpayer and American citizen
